

Topic: Faith and Hope Month – Organ & Tissue Donation

Did you know all major religions support organ and tissue donation or support the individual choices of its members? National Donor Sabbath (November 10th – 12th) is part of a donation initiative launched by the United States Department of Health and Human Services in 1997. The three-day national observance seeks to include the days of worship of major religions practiced in the United States.

During National Donor Sabbath, donation and transplant professionals join faith communities to focus on the lifesaving and healing gifts passed to others through organ, eye and tissue donation.
